Excerpt: . at the beginning of this dis course, that he did not inculcate upon, his hearers the love of their country, or take any notice of it as a part of our duty. Instead of doing this, I observed that he. taught the obligation to love all mankind, and recommended universal benevolence, as (next to the love of God) our first duty; and, I think, I also proved to you, that this, in the circumstances of the world at that time, was an instance of incomparable wisdom and goodness in his instructions. But we must not infer from hence, that he did not include the love of our country in the number of our duties. He has shewn the contrary by his example. It appears that he possessed a particular affection for his country, though a very wicked country. We read in Luke x....
