So I found out all this in the same way as I found out that mole. When I had said this, that king was afflicted with shame. Then without accepting his munificence, considering myself to have gained all I desired by the clearing of my reputation, I went home: for to the wise character is wealth. And the moment I arrived, the servants of my house wept before me, and when I was distressed at it Upavarsha came to me and said, Upakos, when she heard that the king had put you to death, committed her body to the flames, and then your mothers heart broke with grief. Hearing that, senseless with the distraction produced by recently aroused grief, I suddenly fell on the ground like a tree broken by the wind: and in a moment I tasted the relief of loud lamentations; whom will not the fire of grief, produced by the loss of dear relations, scorch Varsha came and gave me sound advice in such words as these, The only thing that is stable in this ever-changeable world is instability, then why are you distracted though you know this delusion of the Creator By the help of these and similar exhortations I at length, though with difficulty, regained my equanimity; then with heart disgusted with the world, I flung aside all earthly lords, and choosing selfrestraint for my only companion, I went to a grove where asceticism was practised....
